The crowning law of today's technology is therefore no natural law, but the biological consequence of a tragic error of contemporary science. For if the naturaesque metabolic process is initiated through equally naturaesque impulses (il primo movere), then as the velocity increases owing to the additional input from the inwinding rotary current, the power increases by the square. The outcome of this developmental process is an almost cost-free, development-promoting mechanical power - the evolving water (viz. the atomised water vapour).
